

You spent your career serving Australia. Let's build what comes next.

TransitionHQ is a boutique consultancy guiding Australian Defence Force members through every step of the move into rewarding civilian careers. We don't just write résumés — we partner with you through the entire journey, from your first thoughts of transition to your first months in a new role.

The Career Transition Success Program

— FIVE PILLARS, ONE JOURNEY

01 Career Discovery

Understanding who you are beyond your service — your strengths, values and the civilian direction that will genuinely suit you.

02 Professional Branding

A résumé, LinkedIn presence and personal narrative that speak the language of civilian employers with authority.

03 Job Search Support

Practical, hands-on guidance through the civilian job market — where to look, how to apply, and how to open the right doors.

04 Interview Preparation

The confidence to walk into any interview and speak to your value in terms a civilian panel will understand and remember.

05 Transition Support

A steady partnership that continues well past your first day — through the real adjustment of settling into civilian working life.

WHY WE'RE DIFFERENT

Led by people who have served — not by an algorithm. Our team combines Defence experience, executive leadership and recruitment insight. Technology stays quietly in the background, so we spend more time on you.
